BRING FALL LOOKS INTO YOUR HOME

by Shay Geyer

Nature is a great place to obtain inspiration for your home's design — and the beauty found during the fall season is particularly awe-inspiring. There are so many extraordinary colors and textures, from fall leaves to evening sunsets, it's easy to draw inspiration for color at this time of year.

*“Get inspired for your home's design by the rich colors and textures often associated with fall — deep pumpkin orange, moss green and eggplant.
Select cozy textiles like wool, flannel and mohair for your upholstery.”*

We selected one of fall's standout colors, orange, to lacquer the paneling of this home's study. The rich Hermès orange adds depth and takes this room's design to a whole other level, enveloping the space and creating a coziness and "warmth."

The sitting area features a deep amethyst mohair sofa paired with wood-framed "x back" slipper chairs in a muted gold fabric. An arched nook within built-ins was designed specifically for the sofa. Brass sconces provide extra light for reading.

The built-in bookcases are layered with family treasures and accessories. A brass and mirrored cocktail table sits on top of a leopard-patterned hide. Abstract art above the sofa pulls the room's color palette together. Custom drapery in a jewel tone-embroidered chevron hung on an acrylic-and-brass rod add pattern and dress the large arched window.

A writing desk in a warm brown finish with mirrored-drawer fronts provides a workspace as well as contrast to the orange lacquer. A tortoise shell-patterned mirror complements the desk and reflects the details of the room's sitting area. To provide task lighting, we selected a gold-leaf table lamp adorned with orange and amber agates. ■
